To The Vacancy Committee:

It is a pleasure to write in support of Janelle Rettig's application for the vacancy on the Johnson County Board of Supervisors. I have known Janelle for several years as a business woman, community volunteer and friend. Janelle is a dedicated and committed person who is innovative and persistent in her efforts to contribute to what ever endeavor she is involved in.

Janelle is a hard worker who will research and be thoroughly prepared concerning all the issues that come before the Board of Supervisors. She is an active listener making sure she understands everyone's point of view. She will give the other members of the Board as well as those citizens who come before the board to make their case for an issue due consideration. She is very sensitive to the needs of others and her decisions will be based on the solution that will do the most good for the most people. She will also make her comments on a subject in a non controversial well thought out and clearly articulated manner.

I can not recommend her more highly to you as a person who has exceptionally high ethical standards and, therefore along with her other attributes makes her more than qualified for this vacancy.

Sincerely,

Suzanne Koury
